I. Becoming a Tax-Exempt Non-Profit Organization: What Do I Need To Know?

A tax-exempt nonprofit organization is an organization that serves the public interest. In general, the purpose of this type of organization must be charitable, educational, scientific, religious or literary. The public expects to be able to make donations to these organizations and deduct these donations from their federal income taxes.

Legally, a nonprofit organization is one that does not declare a profit and instead utilizes all revenue available after normal operating expenses (including salaries) in service to the public interest. These organizations can be unincorporated or incorporated, but while an unincorporated nonprofit organization may be granted federal tax-exempt status or the designation of being a 501(c)(3) organization as defined by the Federal Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”), an unincorporated nonprofit organization may not have the same legal protections, such as limited liability, that a corporate form provides. For that reason, materials relating to the formation of a New Jersey nonprofit corporation have been included.

The following are frequently asked questions about the process of becoming a nonprofit:

How do I become a New Jersey nonprofit corporation?

Formation: When forming a New Jersey nonprofit corporation, the organization must first file a certificate of incorporation with the State of New Jersey, Department of Treasury, Division of Revenue. (See sample form Certificate of Incorporation provided with these materials.) This process is similar to that for the formation of a for-profit corporation. Like most states, New Jersey requires the non-profit corporation to designate its name, appoint a registered agent resident within the State of New Jersey to receive service of process, name the individuals who will serve on the initial Board of Trustees and other information required by the relevant New Jersey statute (N.J.S.A. §15A:2-8 lists the information that must be included in the certificate of incorporation.)

This certificate of incorporation may be filed online at <https://www.state.nj.us/cgi-bin/treasury/revenue/dcr/filing/page1.cgi> or in hard copy via mail-in/ regular processing (addressed to the Corporate Filing Unit, P.O. Box 308, Trenton, NJ 08646-0308) or over-the counter/ expedited processing by in person delivery (not available via USPS Overnight delivery service) to the Corporate Filing Section, 33 West State Street, 5th Floor, Trenton, NJ 08608-10001.

The certificate of incorporation may also be delivered by facsimile to (609) 984-6851. Additional service fees will be charged on a per page basis for filings that are faxed back to the filers.

The filing must be accompanied by the appropriate filing fee and any related service fees. As of January 20, 2011, the filing fee for a certificate of incorporation for a non-profit corporation was $75.00. An additional service fee may be charged for expedited service over the counter or by fax.

Before filing a certificate of incorporation, it is recommended that you review the State of New Jersey, Department of the Treasury, Division of Revenue website at <http://www.state.nj.us/treasury/revenue> to ensure that the filing procedures for corporate entity formations have not changed. The commercial recording fee schedule should also be checked to ensure that the proper filing and service fees are paid.

Registration as a new Business Entity: Within sixty (60) days after your New Jersey nonprofit corporation has been formed, it is necessary to register it as a business entity with the State of New Jersey, Division of Revenue. This registration process will assist you in becoming aware of all of the taxes and related liabilities to which a new business may be subject. The applicant for registration must complete the Business Registration Application, Form NJ-REG and mail it to New Jersey Division of Revenue, P.O. Box 252, Trenton, NJ 08646-0252. Overnight delivery can be made to Client Registration, 847 Roebbling Avenue, Trenton, NJ 08611. Electronic filing for the NJ-REG form is available as of January, 2011. The complete business registration packet and instructions, including the NJ-REG form, can be downloaded in pdf format from the New Jersey Business Gateway website found at <http://www.state.nj.us/njbgs> and click on the link for “I want to form/register a business”.

Most states also require nonprofit organizations to register with state charity bureaus or other agencies and adhere to reporting requirements particularly involving fundraising operations. In New Jersey, non-profit corporations may be required to register with the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs’ Charities Registration Section of the Office of Consumer Protection. This process is explained in greater detail later in this pamphlet. (See Section III below, “Ability to Fundraise; Registering as a Charitable Entity in New Jersey”).

Federal Identification Number: All corporations and businesses with employees must have a Federal Employer Identification Number (EIN). This number, which is the equivalent of a Social Security number assigned to an individual, is provided to your organization by the IRS. In order to obtain an EIN from the IRS, your organization should complete a Form SS4 application or use the online EIN application on the IRS website at <http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small/article/0,,id=102767,00.html> after its formation. This SS4 application form and related instructions can be found on the IRS website at www.irs.gov. It is important to note that a Form 1023 Application cannot be made without having an EIN number for your organization. (See sample form SS4 provided with these materials.)

What is a 501(c)(3) organization?

The designation "501(c)(3)" refers to the section of Internal Revenue Code (the "Code") that deals with tax exempt organizations. A tax-exempt organization (such as a nonprofit corporation) does not pay federal corporate income taxes on its income that arises from its charitable activities. There are two very important things to keep in mind with respect to this exemption:

- Being formed as a nonprofit corporation under New Jersey law or the laws of any other state does NOT necessarily qualify your organization for federal tax exempt status.
- In order to obtain a determination from the IRS that your organization qualifies for such exemption under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code, an application on IRS Form 1023 must be made. As set forth in the accompanying materials, such Form 1023 requires substantial disclosures about your organization, its officers and directors, its finance, its fundraising activities and other information. (See sample Form 1023 and Form 1023 Attachments provided with these materials.)

How will my organization benefit from obtaining an IRS determination that it is a 501(c)(3) organization?

The primary benefit, of course, is that your organization will not be required to pay federal income tax on profits arising from its charitable activities. Your organization will also be more attractive to potential donors because your donors' charitable contributions will be deductible for federal income tax purposes.

Being designated by the IRS as a tax-exempt nonprofit corporation can also qualify the organization for lower postal rates and for government and private grants.

Being designated by the IRS as a tax-exempt nonprofit corporation has some disadvantages, which include increased paperwork, record keeping and ongoing reporting requirements. For example, your organization will be required to keep accurate records of its fund-raising activities, and your organization may become subject to additional regulation, such as charitable registration requirements. (See Infra. Part III and Part IV discussing charitable registration and filing of IRS Form 990.)

Nonprofits are also prohibited from participating in certain lobbying activities, and must pay taxes on any profits that arise out of activities unrelated to your charitable purpose.

The list of advantages and disadvantages set forth above is not exhaustive and does not take into account the particular nature of your organization, its planned activities, its sources of funding or the individual goals of your incorporators. There is no substitute for obtaining professional legal advice, as well as tax and accounting advice, from licensed professionals who can discuss the advantages and disadvantages to your organization, as well as to its trustees, officers and employees, of forming a nonprofit corporation and seeking a federal tax exempt status.

Should I start a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization?

First you should decide if your organization's mission would benefit by establishing a nonprofit corporation. If you want to raise funds in the form of tax deductible contributions, the organization must serve some charitable, religious, educational, scientific or literary purpose beneficial to the public interest. This will allow the organization to seek tax exempt status from the IRS, acquiring the designation of being a 501(c)(3) charitable organization.

If you'll be seeking funding from foundation grants, you should know that many foundations require grant recipients to be 501(c)(3) organizations. If you want your contributors to be able to deduct their donations from their taxable income (and they will want that as well), you need to be a 501(c)(3) organization.

It also depends on how much time, effort, and money you are willing and able to put into the process of filing forms and complying with legal requirements. Here's where consulting a lawyer would be highly recommended, if your organization can afford one. If your project is small and of short duration, you might be better off partnering with a 501(c)(3) that can provide you with legal protection and give your project legitimacy.¹

What should I know about how New Jersey law governs nonprofit corporations?

In New Jersey, nonprofit corporations are governed by the New Jersey Nonprofit Corporation Act, which is patterned on the New Jersey Business Corporation Act, although there are substantial differences.

One significant difference between a for-profit corporation and a nonprofit corporation is that a nonprofit corporation does not have any shareholders; in fact, no part of the earnings of the organization may be used to benefit any private individual.

Nonprofit corporations are governed by a Board of Trustees. Trustees of nonprofit corporations have fiduciary duties to the organization they serve and must act (a) in good faith², (b) with due care, after reasonable inquiry, and (c) in a manner in which the trustee reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the organization.

Under the New Jersey Nonprofit Corporation Act and common law, a trustee of a nonprofit corporation stands in a fiduciary relationship to the corporation and agrees to act with a duty of loyalty to the corporation. The duty of loyalty means trustees must act in the best interests of the corporation, without regard to the trustee's self-interest or personal gain when dealing with the organization's matters.³ A business relationship between a trustee and an organization is permissible, but the transaction between trustee and the organization must be fair and reasonable at the time it is authorized, the conflict must be known to the board, and the transaction is authorized, approved or ratified by the affirmative vote of a majority of disinterested trustees, even if the disinterested trustees be less than a quorum.⁴

² "Good faith" requires honesty of intention, openness, and fair dealing and includes a requirement that a trustee's action be in keeping with the trustee's duty of loyalty.

Trustees also must act with a duty of care in making deliberative and informed decisions, but they are not expected to have specialized expertise.⁵ Trustees are expected to, be familiar with the organization's structure and mission, be adequately informed about any decision made by the board of trustees, fully participate at board meetings, and ensure the organization's activities are in accordance with the mission, plans, and policies of the organization.

Furthermore, trustees may, when acting in good faith, rely on others (officers, employees, accountants, committees) to collect and evaluate information and/or to act for them in particular circumstances, if the board exercises due care in the selection and surveillance of its designees. Tasks requiring specialized expertise shall be delegated to qualified professionals. A trustee would not be considered to be acting in good faith or with due care if the trustee had knowledge concerning the matter in question that would cause the trustee's reliance on the designee to be unwarranted.

Because Trustees have responsibility and control over organizations that serve the public interest, they have a heightened level of obligation under the law to be loyal to the corporation and to further its nonprofit purposes. It is a good idea for an organization to have a written policy regarding business relationships with its Trustees.

The New Jersey Nonprofit Corporation Act imposes certain obligations upon the nonprofit corporations with respect to its corporate governance. All Trustees and officers of nonprofit corporations should familiarize themselves with this Act, as well as the procedures set forth in the corporation's bylaws.

For a short form checklist of some of the basic requirements to have in place prior to initiating the nonprofit formation process, see the "Checklist of Items to Have in Place Before Applying for a NJVLA Full Service Attorney" accompanying these materials.

Special Considerations for Arts Organizations

As a first step, you will need to specifically consider whether you and your work as an artist would benefit from becoming a non-profit organization and whether you and your artistic organization's activities will meet the requirements for tax-exempt status.

In order to be exempt as an organization described in section 501(c)3, an organization must be both organized and operated exclusively for one or more of the purposes specified in that section. At the outset it is helpful to quote directly the description of a 501(c) (3) organization from the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"). It is as follows:

Corporations and any community chest, fund or foundation organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, testing for public safety, literary, or educational purposes, or to foster national or international amateur sports competition (but only if not part of its activities involve the provisions of athletic facilities or equipment), or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation (except as otherwise provided in subsection (h)) and which does not participate in, or intervene in (including the publishing or distributing of statements) any political campaign on behalf of (or in opposition to) any candidate for public office.

Notice that the Code makes no mention of “artistic” purposes. This doesn’t mean that an arts organization cannot receive 501(c)(3) status, however it does mean that the arts organization must couple with one of the other designated purposes, usually “educational” or “charitable” (and perhaps “literary” if the organization is particularly focused on the linguistic or literary arts), or some multiple combination of these purposes. Because of this “coupling factor” it is important to make sure that your arts organization dedicates a recognizable portion of its activities in the educational, charitable or literary categories (or one of the other 501(c)(3) categories) worthy of tax-exemption under the Code.

In general the IRS has considered a number of factors when determining whether to grant tax-exempt status to non-profit arts organizations including: the extent to which the organization educates and provides outreach to the community at large, whether or not there will be financial profits from art shows or performances and the purposes for which those funds will be used, the specific need for the arts organization within the specific community, whether or not artistic performances or exhibits will be juried, the extent to which the particular art is being pursued for artistic or commercial purposes, and whether or not arts activities will be open only to members of the organization or also to the public at large.

In prior case law and revenue rulings, the federal tax courts and IRS have determined that arts organizations which focused on art education and community outreach, the organization of juried shows of artwork involving the public, and the sale of artwork for the purposes of funding the organization (and not the members) serve an important function worthy of tax-exempt status. In addition, an organization which aims to foster and promote the arts by educating the public and supporting amateur artists will also be worthy of tax-exempt status. The IRS prefers that at least some of the organization’s events and classes be open to the public at large (and not just members). However there are myriad possibilities for activities and combinations of activities which could receive tax exempt status. Just keep in mind that your description of your organization’s activities should adequately describe your organization’s charitable 501(c)(3) activities and the specific contribution your arts organization will bring to the artistic community or the public at large. (See sample Form 1023 for a 'description of organizational activities' and the sample Certificate of Incorporation 'description of organizational purpose' provided with these materials.)

If after reading this introduction you decide to become a New Jersey non-profit organization and to apply for 501(c)(3) status from the IRS, please read on to learn about the specific requirements for making your applications to the State of New Jersey and the Federal IRS. Please also view the "Checklist of Items to Have in Place Before Applying for a NJVLA Full Service Attorney" and "Nonprofit Formation Task list" included in these materials for further instructions on how to proceed.

Special Considerations for Youth Serving Arts Organizations

Pursuant to Chapter 3A of the New Jersey Nonprofit Corporation Act, if your organization is formed as a New Jersey nonprofit corporation and is exempt from federal income taxes, and if its activities will involve recreational, cultural, charitable, social or other activities or services for persons younger than 18 years of age, your organization is considered to be a “nonprofit youth serving organization.” Chapter 3A permits a youth serving organization to request through the New Jersey Department of Law and Safety, that a criminal history record background check be conducted by the Division of State Police on each prospective and current employee or volunteer of the organization.

The Division of State Police may only conduct such criminal history record background check if it has received the written consent to such check by the prospective or current employee or volunteer. Such prospective or current employees or volunteers are required by law to submit their name, address, fingerprints and written consents to the organization requesting such check.

Upon receipt of the written consent, the Division of Police will examine its own files, and arrange for a similar examination by federal authorities. If the background check on the prospective or current employee or volunteer reveals a conviction of a “disqualifying crime or offense” (a list of those crimes or offenses are contained in N.J.S.A. §15A:3A-3), the Division will notify the youth serving organization. The law permits the youth serving organization to disqualify such person from serving as an employee or volunteer.

For more information on criminal history record background checks, see the website for the State of New Jersey, Department of Law and Public Safety, Office of the Attorney General.

II. How the IRS Exemption Application Review Process Works

Processing Fees

The IRS charges a non-refundable processing fee for 501(c)3 applications. There is currently a two tier fee schedule. Organizations whose gross receipts have averaged, or will average, not more than $10,000 per year pay a $400 flat fee. Larger organizations pay a $850 flat fee. You may pay the fee with a cashier's check, money order or personal check.

Mailing Address

Currently, all exemption applications are initially handled in the IRS Cincinnati Service Center, located in Covington, Kentucky. If you mail your application package, it should be sent to:

Internal Revenue Service
E.O. Application Receiving
P.O. Box 12192
Covington, Kentucky 41012-0192

If you send your application by means of a delivery service which requires a street address, it should be sent to:

Internal Revenue Service
E.O. Application Receiving
Attn: Extracting Stop 312
201 West Rivercenter Blvd
Covington, Kentucky 41011

Screening

The Covington, Kentucky office should send you a brief letter acknowledging receipt of the application a few weeks after you mail it. All exemption applications are initially screened in Cincinnati to determine whether they can be closed without further development or with only minimal correspondence with the organization.. More complicated applications may require more time along with additional review.

An application which is approved without the need for the IRS to contact the organization may take only six to ten weeks, start to finish. However, when the IRS feels that additional development and information is needed, processing is likely to take much longer. You may obtain updates on the status of your application by visiting the IRS website at <http://www.irs.gov/charities/article/0,,id=156733,00.html>.

Expediting your application: Many applicants are interested in expedited handling for a number of reasons. For example, you may have a grantor waiting to award you funding upon your receipt of tax-exempt status. Although the IRS generally will not consider any application out of turn, they will sometimes be persuaded by a letter from an unrelated third party, such as a potential grantor, which explains the need for expedited treatment and mentions a specific deadline. Because exemption applications may travel to different parts of the country depending on the IRS workload, a letter of this kind must accompany the application when it is originally submitted. You should also indicate clearly and upfront that you are seeking exemption by writing "Request for Expedited Treatment" at the top of your application.

Inquiry Letter

If the IRS feels that your application is incomplete or requires further information or development to make a determination, the IRS may send you an inquiry letter with a list of the additional information it may require. IRS employees in offices all over the country handle this phase of processing. When an inquiry letter (Form Letter 1312) is sent, you normally have 21 days to respond. If you need additional time, the agent handling the case will routinely grant an extension of ten days to two weeks. If that will not be enough time, however, the IRS usually prefers to close the case (Form Letter 1314). Your file is kept in the immediate work area, and reopened automatically when your additional information comes in.

Caution! If you take more than 90 days to submit the additional information, IRS rules say that they can charge you a new "User Fee."

Final Disposition

Once you have answered all of the IRS agent's questions satisfactorily, a favorable determination letter will be issued. If the IRS denies your application, they must provide you with a written explanation of the facts, law, and argument upon which their decision is based, as well as an explanation of your appeal rights. If your application is denied we strongly suggest that you seek the assistance of a lawyer in drafting your appeal. Very often successful appeals require drafting a detailed argument based upon legal precedent statutory requirements.

Putting Together a Complete 501(c)3 Tax-Exempt Entity Application Package

Forms

Your application package should contain the following items, in the order shown.

1. An envelope containing your check for the User Fee. Make your check out to "United States Treasury" for either $400 or $850. It's a good idea to write the organization's Federal ID number and "Form 1023" in the memo area of the check.
2. The two-page Form 1023 Checklist, found at the end of Form 1023. Note that you must indicate which Form 1023 schedules you are filing, as well as entering the locations (from the articles of incorporation) of your organization's purpose and dissolution clauses.
3. If your organization is represented by a tax professional, Form 2848, Power of Attorney.
4. If you want the IRS to discuss your application with a third party, Form 8821, Tax Information Authorization.
5. If you are asking the IRS to expedite review of your application, an Expedite Request, usually in the form of a letter.
6. Form 1023, Application for Recognition of Exemption Under Section 501(c)(3). Make certain that all applicable parts of the form are completed, including any schedules required for your type of organization. The form must be signed by an authorized person.

Required Materials

These materials are required; if they are not included, it may delay processing of your application:

1. A copy of the Certificate of Incorporation (if your group is incorporated...otherwise, submit your constitution, articles of association, or other governing document - Bylaws alone are not enough). The Certificate of Incorporation should clearly show that they have been filed with the proper state authority. The IRS usually asks for two signatures on the governing instrument of an unincorporated association. (See the sample Certificate of Incorporation provided with these materials.)

2. Bylaws. These should be signed and dated. (See the Sample Bylaws and “Introduction to Corporate Bylaws” provided with these materials.)

3. Actual financial data, for the most recent five tax years,(if the organization has been in existence for five or more years) including income statement(s) and a recent balance sheet, if the organization has had any financial activity.

4. If the organization has been in existence for more than one tax year, but less than five years, include actual financial data for each year in existence and a four year projected budget of likely revenues and expenses based on a reasonable and good faith estimate. If the organization has not been in existence for a tax year, a three year projected budget will suffice.

Optional Materials

The following materials are often requested by IRS agents reviewing exemption applications (if you have these materials available it is a good idea to include as many of them as possible):

1. Brochures, pamphlets, descriptive literature, and any other printed materials describing the history of the organization, its activities and its plans for the future. If you don't have any, it is a good idea to say so somewhere in the application. If you have some in draft form, go ahead and submit them.

2. If the organization publishes a newsletter, sample copies.

3. If the group is a membership organization, any materials prepared for members - membership application forms, promotional materials, sample membership certificates or identification cards, sample copies of member-only publications, etc.

4. If you have received media coverage, copies of newspaper clippings, transcripts of interviews, etc.

5. Any documentation you have regarding grant monies. This might include grant applications, grant contracts, or correspondence between your organization and the grantor organization.

6. If appropriate, a "schedule of events," showing where and when your organization has held informational or other events during the last 12 months. Include approximate attendance.

7. If your organization will have a scholarship or grant program:

- a description of how potential applicants will hear about your program
- a description of eligibility requirements
- a sample (draft will do) of the application form(s) you will require applicants to submit
- a description of the selection process, including a description of the selection committee itself, and how the selection committee is selected
- any guidelines prepared for the selection committee's use
- conditions placed upon grants or scholarships, including any requirements for grade notification, etc. and a description of action that will be taken if the terms of the grant are violated

8. In the absence of the several kinds of printed materials described in items 1-7 above, it is sometimes useful to have selected letters from your correspondence files, such as letters between your organization and potential members or board members, letters of appreciation from groups where you have made presentations or otherwise helped out, or perhaps even letters from public officials commenting on your efforts.

9. Any or all of the following:

- advertisements
- copies of contracts, rental agreements, leases, and loan agreements involving the applicant organization

- copies of Federal, State or local legislation, if any, regarding the creation or continued existence of the organization
- resumes of board members and/or key employees, if readily available, and/or copies of licenses, certificates, etc.
- independent appraisals of assets the organization is renting or purchasing from related parties

10. Anything else you may have which would give the IRS insight into your organization's mission or operations.

III. Ability to Fundraise; Registration as a New Jersey Charitable Organization

The New Jersey Charitable Registration and Investigation Act requires charitable organizations to register with the Division of Consumer Affairs before conducting fundraising activities unless the charitable organization only raises $10,000 or less annually. Organizations which raise (or plan to raise) $10,000 or less may choose to register but are no longer required to do so. An organization that intends to raise $10,000 or less but ends up raising additional funds must register within 30 days of raising such additional funds.

Note that if you are intending to use fund raising counsel or an independent paid fund raiser, you should be sure that such person/entity is also registered in New Jersey.

How to Register

a. Short Form Registration

If your organization intends to raise between $10,001 and $25,000 annually, it may register with the Division of Consumer Affairs using Form CRI-200 (with addendum) – available on the Division of Consumer Affairs' website – if the funds are being raised by volunteers, members, officers or persons who are not being compensated for soliciting contributions. Form CRI-200 is available on the Division's website at <http://www.state.nj.us/lps/ca/ocp/charities.htm>. Included with the registration form should be copies of the organizations bylaws, articles of incorporation, the IRS determination letter and the most recently filed IRS Form 990. If the organization does not have any of these documents, you should state why it (or they) is/are missing in the cover letter accompanying the form, e.g. because the organization has not yet received its determination letter from the IRS regarding its tax-exempt status.

A check or money order in the amount of $30 must accompany Form CRI-200 and should be made out to The N.J. Division of Consumer Affairs. Form CRI-200 and the fee should be sent to:

New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs
Charities Registration Section
P.O. Box 45021
Newark, NJ 07101

Short form registrants must renew their registration annually using CRI-200 and such renewal must be submitted within 6 months after the close of the organization's fiscal year and must be accompanied by the filing fee.

b. Long Form Registration

If your organization intends to raise more than $25,000 annually or if it contracts with fund raising counsel or an independent paid fund raiser, it must register using Form CRI 150-1/1C (with addendum). Such forms are available on the Division's website at <http://www.state.nj.us/lps/ca/ocp/charities.htm>. Again, copies of the organization's bylaws, articles of incorporation, IRA determination letter and most recently filed IRS Form 990 must be included with the long form registration, as well as a check or money order made out to The N.J. Division of Consumer Affairs in the amount specified: if your organization raises $100,000 or less annually, you must submit a filing fee of $60; if the organization raises more than $100,000 but not more than $500,000, the fee is $150; and if the organization raises more than $500,000 annually, the fee is $250. Note that organizations filing the long form that raise more than $250,000 must also submit a certified audit prepared by a public accountant.

Long form registrants must renew their registrations annually within 6 months of the close of the fiscal year. The renewal form is Form CRI-300R/300RC and must be accompanied by the filing fee.

IV. Continuing Obligations Upon a Favorable Determination by the IRS

Following receipt of a letter from the IRS providing a favorable determination that your organization qualifies as a federal tax exempt entity under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code, your organization will have continuing reporting obligations to various federal and state entities.

Those obligations include:

- Annual filing of federal tax return Form 990/Form 990EZ: Starting in 2010, a tax exempt organization that normally has $50,000 or more in gross receipts must make an annual filing of Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax. This return is due on the 15th of the month on the fifth month after the close of the organization's fiscal year. For organizations with gross receipts of less than $200,000 and assets of less than $500,000 at the end of the year may file Form 990-EZ, Short Form Return of Organizations Exempt from Income Tax. Small tax exempt organizations, whose gross receipts are normally $50,000 or less, may be required to electronically submit Form 990-N, also known as the e-Postcard. Certain organizations are exempt from these filing requirements. More information about the filing requirements and instructions for completing such Form can be found on the IRS website.

It should be noted that all information provided on the Form 990 is open to public inspection. Information to be reported includes not only financial information relating to your organization's revenues, expenses, assets, etc., but it also includes compensation paid to five highest paid employees, compensation paid to the five highest paid independent contractors and a list of all contributors, including their names and addresses, aggregate contributions and type of contribution.

- Annual filing of state tax returns: In New Jersey, if your organization is properly incorporated and operated as a nonprofit corporation, your organization is exempt from the New Jersey corporation business tax without obtaining a separate exemption letter from the New Jersey Division of Taxation. Each state's tax filing requirements may differ, but many states require nonprofit entities to file a copy of its federal Form 990 with that state's tax division. However, the New Jersey Division of Taxation (as of January, 2011) does not require the filing of a federal Form 990.

- Annual corporate report filing: As a NJ nonprofit corporation, even though your organization may not be required to file a corporate business tax return (see above), your organization will be required to make an online filing of its annual report. The filing must be done through the State of New Jersey, Department of Treasury, Division of Revenue website, and a filing fee ($25 for nonprofit corporations as of January 2011) will be payable at the time of the filing. In order to enter the system, you will need to have the ten digit corporation number assigned upon formation, the month and year the business was formed and the business type (nonprofit domestic corporation).
- Renewal of Charitable Registrations: As noted above, organizations that have registered as charitable organizations with the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs must renew their registrations annually.

Your entity may have additional annual filing requirements, particularly if your organization engages in its activities in other states. Those other states will have their own tax, corporate and charitable registration requirements. In addition, if your organization retains a third party (for example, a fundraising management company or consultant) to do fundraising for it, additional regulatory approvals and filings may be required. The bulleted points above are only a starting point and should not be relied upon as an exhaustive list of your organization's periodic reporting obligations. If in doubt, it is always a good idea to check the website of the state's attorney general or any other agency that has jurisdiction over charitable entities or their activities.

CORPORATE BYLAWS FOR A NONPROFIT CORPORATION

The attached sample bylaws are drafted for a nonprofit corporation formed under the New Jersey Nonprofit Corporation Act, N.J.S.A. 15A:1-1 et seq. (the “Nonprofit Act”). They were drafted for a fictional nonprofit entity named New Jersey Artists, Inc. without members, to be governed exclusively by a Board of Trustees. This is only a sample and is not intended to be a substitute for obtaining legal advice with respect to your entity’s corporate governance or its procedures.

Corporate bylaws establish the procedures for the governance of the corporation. In certain cases, the Nonprofit Act may contain requirements that cannot be waived or changed by any provision in the bylaws or the certificate of incorporation. For example, N.J.S.A. 15A:6-2 provides: “The number of trustees of a corporation shall be not less than three.” The minimum number of trustees cannot be changed by a provision in the bylaws or the certificate of incorporation.

In other cases, the Nonprofit Act will provide a “default” provision that will be binding upon the corporation unless the bylaws or the certificate of incorporation provides otherwise. For example, N.J.S.A. 15A:6-7(c) provides: “Unless otherwise provided by the certificate of incorporation or bylaws, any action required or permitted to be taken pursuant to authorization voted at a meeting of the board or any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting if, prior or subsequent to the action, all members of the board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing...” In that case, if the bylaws and the certificate of incorporation are silent on this issue, then the Nonprofit Act permits the board to act by executing a form of unanimous written consent. However, the bylaws could require that all action of the board be taken at a meeting.

If the Nonprofit Act requires or permits a particular provision to be set forth in the bylaws, such provision may be included in the certificate of incorporation instead. However, if that is done, it will be more difficult to amend that provision. The Trustees may prefer that certain provisions, such as provisions relating to voting requirements, be more difficult to amend; in that case, it would make sense to include those provisions in the certificate of incorporation rather than the bylaws.

The difference in the amendment procedures should be considered when deciding whether to include a provision in the bylaws or the certificate of incorporation. Compare the requirements for amending the bylaws and amending the certificate of incorporation:

- In order to amend the certificate of incorporation (except for amendments made before the organizational meeting of the board or amendments arising out of a merger), the Trustees must approve such amendment at a meeting by at least a two-thirds affirmative vote or, in lieu of holding a meeting, by having all Trustees sign a form of written consent approving such amendment. Then a certificate of amendment must be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of New Jersey and a filing fee must be paid.

- By contrast, in order to amend the bylaws, the Trustees must approve such amendment at a meeting by a majority vote (or such greater voting requirement, if the bylaws so require) or in lieu of holding a meeting, by having all Trustees sign a form of written consent approving such amendment. The corporate Secretary should keep a record of the revised bylaws provisions with the corporate records, but no filing with the Secretary of State is required.

Section 1.1. The name of this corporation is NJ Artists, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation"). At any annual meeting, the Board of Trustees may, by the affirmative vote of a majority of such Trustees, create one or more additional seats on the Board of Trustees up to the maximum number stated in these Bylaws and, at such meeting, appoint additional Trustees to fill such newly created seats, with such newly appointed Trustees to serve for a full two-year term commencing on the date of appointment and until their successor are duly appointed and qualified.

⁶ The Act requires a minimum of three (3) directors but it imposes no maximum on the number of Trustees.

Section 4.3. Powers and Duties. Subject to the provisions of these Bylaws and the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, the Board of Trustees shall be responsible for the direction of the business and affairs of the Corporation, shall have control over the funds, property, estate, and all activities of the Corporation, provided that such activities are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Corporation as set forth in the Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws, and the laws and regulations of the Federal government and the State of New Jersey.

The terms of all Trustees shall commence on the date of the Board of Trustees' annual meeting at which such Trustees are elected, or on the date of the special meeting called to elect such Trustee to fill a vacancy. There will be no limitation on the number of terms that a Trustee may serve. A sufficient number of Trustees shall be appointed so as to maintain the requisite minimum number of Trustees. Acceptance of such resignation by action of the Board of Trustees shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 4.7. Vacancies. A vacancy on the Board of Trustees shall be deemed to exist when a Trustee resigns from the Board, when a Trustee is removed, when a Trustee dies or becomes disabled or otherwise unable to serve, or when the minimum number of Trustees required by these Bylaws has not been met for other reasons. A replacement Trustee shall be appointed by a majority vote of the remaining Trustees. The Trustee elected by the Board of Trustees to fill a vacancy shall serve until the next succeeding annual meeting and until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

ARTICLE 5 – MEETINGS OF THE TRUSTEES

Section 5.1. Annual Meetings. The Board of Trustees shall hold no less than one (1) regular meeting each year at the Corporation's offices within the State of New Jersey on the first Monday in February of each calendar year, unless such other day, time or place is designated by the Board of Trustees.⁹ The Board of Trustees shall conduct all business as may be properly considered at such annual meetings, including the appointment of Trustees and officers. The notice of such annual meeting shall be given as set forth in Section 5.3.

Section 5.2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Trustees may be called at any time by the President or at the written request of no less than two (2) Trustees, which request has been filed with the Secretary. Any such request shall state the purpose or purposes of the meeting and all Trustees shall be given notice of such special meeting as set forth in Section 5.3. The business to be transacted at any such special meeting of the Board of Trustees shall be limited to the purpose or purposes set forth in the notice of meeting.

Section 5.3. Notice of Meeting. At least ten (10) but not more than sixty (60) days' prior written notice of any annual meeting, and not less than five (5) days' but not more than sixty (60) days' prior written notice of any special meeting, shall be given by the Secretary, by mail, with postage prepaid thereon, or by a reputable overnight courier, with delivery charges prepaid, addressed to each Trustee at the last address furnished to the Secretary. The notice shall state the date, hour and place of meeting, and in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes of the meeting.

Section 5.4. Waiver of Notice. Written notice of any meeting need not be given to any Trustee who signs a written waiver of notice in person, whether before or after the meeting which waiver shall be filed by the Secretary with the minutes of the meeting. Attendance at or participation by teleconference in a meeting without protesting the lack of notice of such meeting shall constitute waiver of notice.

Section 5.5. Quorum. The presence in person of a majority of the Trustees entitled to vote shall constitute a quorum for action by the Trustees. Trustees present in person at a duly-organized meeting may continue to do business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough members to leave less than a quorum. Less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting.

Section 5.6. Adjourned Meetings. When a meeting is adjourned to another time and place, it shall not be necessary to give notice of the adjourned meeting if the time and place to which the meeting is adjourned are announced at the meeting at which adjournment is taken and if the period of adjournment does not exceed ten (10) days in any one adjournment. At the adjourned meeting, the Trustees may only conduct the business as might have been transacted at the original meeting, unless a notice of the adjourned meeting specifying such other matters to be transacted is delivered to the Trustees.

Section 5.7. Action Without a Meeting by Unanimous Written Consent. The members of the Board of Trustees or any committee of the Board of Trustees may act without a meeting if, prior to or subsequent to such action, all members¹⁰ of the Board of Trustees or committee shall consent in writing to such action, such written consents to be filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the Corporation.

Section 5.8. Meeting by Telephone. The Board of Trustees or any committee of the Board of Trustees may participate in a meeting of the Board of Trustees or such committee by means of telephone conference call by which all persons participating are able to hear each other, provided that notice of such telephone conference call has been to all Trustees in accordance with Section 5.3.

Section 5.9. Absences. In the event that any Trustee shall fail to attend four (4) consecutive meetings of the Board of Trustees, the Board of Trustees, in its discretion, may direct the Secretary to notify such absent Trustee, by written notice, of his or her consecutive absences and to request a written explanation of such Trustee's reasons therefor. Unless said Trustee, having received the Secretary's notification, shall have tendered to the Secretary, before the next regular meeting of the Board of Trustees, a written excuse that in the judgment of the Board of Trustees is sufficient to excuse such absences, the Board of Trustees shall declare vacant the office of said absent Trustee, and the Secretary shall notify the absent Trustee, in writing, of such action.

Section 5.10. Voting. At all meetings of the Board of Trustees, each Trustee shall have one vote and all matters shall be determined by a majority vote of those Trustees present,¹¹ except as otherwise required in the Certificate of Incorporation, by these Bylaws, or by law.

Section 6.2. Term of Office. The term of office of each Officer shall be for two (2) years, commencing the first day following his or her election at the annual meeting of Trustees, or until his or her successor is elected and takes office. An Officer elected by the Board of Trustees to fill a vacancy occurring between the annual meetings of Trustees shall take office immediately upon election and shall serve the remainder of the term of his or her predecessor or until his or her successor is elected and takes office.

The names of the officers to be nominated shall be sent to the members of the Board of Trustees with the notice of meeting as provided in Section 5.4. Nominations, in addition to those so named, may be made by any Trustee from the floor at the Trustee's annual meeting.

(b) The Board of Trustees, at any time, may remove any officer elected or appointed by the Board with or without cause. Any officer of the Corporation may be removed from office by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining Trustees present at any regular or special meeting of the Board of Trustees, called for that purpose, notice of which shall have been given to such officer by the Corporation. Such officer may elect to appear and to be heard at the meeting provided written notice of his or her request for such hearing has been given at least two (2) days before the date of the meeting.

Section 6.6. President. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Trustees and on public occasions. The President shall acquaint himself or herself with the state, interest and wants of the Corporation, and in all ways by his or her reports and supervision seek to protect the property and promote the welfare and educational purposes of the Corporation. The President shall be an ex-officio member of all committees of the Board of Trustees. Provided that such action has been properly authorized by the Board of Trustees, the President may execute and deliver, or authorize other officers to execute and deliver, on behalf of the Corporation, agreements, certificates and other legal documents, and bind the Corporation to same, relating to the business and financial affairs of the Corporation. The President shall also be charged with seeing that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Trustees are carried into effect.

He or she shall also provide general direction to the development of the Corporation's financial objectives, plans, and policies. If the

(b) Each committee member shall serve on such committee for one (1) year and until his or her successor is duly qualified and appointed. The Board shall reappoint the members of each committee of the Board at each annual meeting of the Board, following the general election of Trustees.

ARTICLE 8 – INDEMNIFICATION OF TRUSTEES AND OFFICERS

Section 8.1. Third Party Actions. Any person who was, or is, or hereafter shall be a Trustee or officer (hereinafter referred to as a "corporate agent") of the Corporation shall be indemnified by the Corporation against the reasonable costs, disbursements and counsel fees

(hereinafter "expenses") and liabilities paid or incurred in satisfaction of any judgment, fine, penalty or settlement (hereinafter "liabilities") in connection with any pending, threatened or completed civil, criminal, administrative or arbitrative action, suit or proceeding, and any appeal therein (hereinafter "proceeding") involving the corporate agent by reason of his or her being or having been such a corporate agent other than a proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation, if (a) such corporate agent acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Corporation; and (b) with respect to any criminal proceeding, such corporate agent had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. The termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not of itself create a presumption that such corporate agent did not meet the applicable standard of conduct set forth in this section.¹³

Section 8.2. Action by or in the Right of the Corporation. The Corporation shall indemnify a corporate agent against his or her expenses in connection with any proceeding by or in the right of the Corporation to procure a judgment in its favor which involves the corporate agent by reason of his or her being or having been such corporate agent, if he or she acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Corporation. However, in such proceeding no indemnification shall be provided in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such corporate agent shall have been adjudged to be liable for negligence or misconduct, unless and only to the extent that the court in which such proceeding was brought shall determine upon application that despite the adjudication of liability, but in view of all circumstances of the case, such corporate agent is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses as such court shall deem proper.¹⁴

Section 8.3. Mandatory Indemnification. The Corporation shall indemnify a corporate agent against expenses to the extent that such corporate agent has been successful on the merits or otherwise in any proceeding referred to in Section 8.1 and 8.2 of these Bylaws in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein.¹⁵

Section 8.4. Procedure for Effecting Indemnifications. Any indemnifications under Section 8.1 of these Bylaws and, unless ordered by a Court, under Section 8.2 of these Bylaws, may be made by the Corporation only as authorized in a specific case upon a determination that indemnification is proper in the circumstances because the corporate agent met the applicable standard of conduct as set forth in Section 8.1 or in Section 8.2 of these Bylaws. Such determination shall be made (a) by the Board of Trustees, acting by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of the Trustees who were not parties to or otherwise involved in the proceeding, or (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable or, even if obtainable, and such quorum of the Board of Trustees by a majority vote of the disinterested Trustees so directs, by independent legal counsel, in a written opinion, such counsel to be designated by the Board of Trustees.

Section 8.5. Advancing Expenses. Expenses incurred by a corporate agent in connection with a proceeding may be paid by the Corporation in advance of the final disposition of the proceeding if authorized in the manner provided in Section 8.4 of these Bylaws upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the corporate agent to repay such amount unless it shall ultimately be determined that he or she is entitled to be indemnified as provided in these Bylaws.

Section 8.6. Scope of Bylaws. The indemnification provided by this Article 8 shall apply to (a) the corporate agent and the legal representative or representatives of the corporate agent and (b) shall not exclude any other rights to which a corporate agent may be entitled under the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of the Corporation or by agreement or otherwise.

ARTICLE 9 – FISCAL YEAR AND AUDIT

Section 9.1. Fiscal Year. The Fiscal Year of the Corporation shall be the calendar year.

Section 10.2. Audit. An annual audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards by independent certified public accountants shall be made of the financial condition and results of operation of the Corporation.

Part IV – Narrative Description of Your Activities

Below is a description of the planned activities of NJ Artists, Inc. (the "Corporation" or "NJ Artists"):

As stated in the Articles of Incorporation, the Corporation was formed to provide arts education to children enrolled in the after-school program in public elementary schools located in Trenton, New Jersey. Studies have shown that arts education fosters a child's self-worth and confidence and that children exposed to the arts have higher achievement scores and are less likely to drop out after the age of compulsory education.

At least sixty five percent (65%) of the children enrolled in Trenton public elementary schools attend the after-school program. Some of those schools have no arts program because of budget reductions. The Corporation will initially offer its services to schools without any arts instruction and will expand into the other schools as funds permit. NJ Artists intends to recruit local artists and college-level art students to provide a half hour to an hour of instruction in various mediums (including visual arts, music and dance) to those children, in an effort to boost the children's self-confidence, reduce dropout rates and increase achievement scores.

The activities of the Corporation will be funded with donations from the public and grant money from other exempt entities. As indicated in the Form 1023, the Corporation intends to qualify as a public charity. Specific fundraising activities are intended to include silent art auctions that will feature work donated to NJ Artists by local artists. The funds raised will be used to purchase art and music supplies, pay instructors hourly wages, pay for the services of a part-time manager/administrative assistant, put on a yearly "performance night" where students will display their artistic abilities to family members and guardians, and purchase insurance. The Corporation's officers and trustees will volunteer their time and efforts to support the Corporation's charitable and educational cause.

The activities described above will be conducted without the services of any full-time employees. As such, any time committed to the Corporation by officers or volunteers will be part-time, and shall not exceed one-third of any officer's or volunteer's professional service time.

No substantial part of the activities described herein will involve the carrying on of propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation (except as may be permitted by Section 501(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended from time to time). Furthermore, the Corporation shall not participate in, or intervene in (by publishing or distributing statements or otherwise), any political campaign on behalf of, or in opposition to, any candidate for public office.

(adopted February 1, 2008)

NJ Artists, Inc.

1. Disclosure. In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence and nature of his or her financial interest to the Board of Trustees ("Board") of NJ Artists, Inc., ("Corporation"), and any relevant committee members. For this purpose, an interested person shall include any trustee, officer, or member of a committee of the Corporation, or an entity affiliated with the Corporation who has a direct or indirect financial interest in a proposed transaction. A financial interest shall include: (a) an ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Corporation has a proposed transaction or arrangement; (b) a compensation arrangement with the Corporation or with any entity or individual with which the Corporation has a proposed transaction or arrangement; and (c) a potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Corporation is negotiating a transaction or arrangement. The remaining trustees or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists. If a conflict of interest exists, the following procedures shall be followed: (a) the President shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement; (b) after exercising due diligence, the trustees or committee shall determine whether the Corporation could obtain a more advantageous transaction or arrangement with reasonable efforts from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest; and (c) if a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably attainable, the trustees or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested trustees whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Corporation's best interests and for its own benefit and whether the transaction is fair and reasonable to the Corporation and shall decide as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement in conformity with such determination.

3. Failure to Disclose. If a trustee or committee member has reasonable cause to believe that an interested person has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, he shall inform the interested person of the basis of such belief and afford the interested person an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose. If, after hearing the response of the member and making such further investigation as may be warranted in the circumstances, the trustees or committee determine that the interested person has in fact failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, the trustees shall take appropriate steps to protect the Corporation.

4. Record of Actions. The minutes of the Board and all relevant committees shall contain the following: (a) the names of persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the trustees' or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed; and (b) the names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection therewith.

5. Compensation. Special procedures shall be in effect with respect to compensation issues. A voting member of the Board or any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Corporation for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

6. Annual Statements. Each interested person shall annually sign a statement that affirms that such person (a) has received a copy of the conflicts of interest policy, (b) has read and understands the policy, (c) has agreed to comply with the policy, and (d) understands that the Corporation is a charitable organization and that in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities that accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes. This policy shall be reviewed annually for the information and guidance of members of the Board, and any new member shall be advised of the policy upon entering on the duties of his office. In addition, the Corporation shall conduct periodic reviews of its activities, including any transactions or arrangements with interested persons, to ensure that its activities in the aggregate promote and further the Corporation's exempt purposes.

Part VI, Line 1a:

The Corporation intends to provide arts instruction to public elementary school students enrolled in the after-school programs in Trenton, New Jersey. The instructors will be hired on a part-time basis and will consist of local artists and college-level art students. All instructors will be subject to criminal background checks prior to being permitted to work with the students.

The Corporation will coordinate the timing of the art instruction with the administrators of the after-school programs, and the expectation is that, at each location, students will be divided by age and each will attend one of two or three classes. For example, kindergarteners and first graders will attend from 3:15 to 4:00; second and third graders from 4:00 to 4:45; and fourth and fifth graders from 4:45 to 5:30. Each class or set of classes will explore a specific medium and students will discuss, view and/or produce an example of that medium. Any necessary supplies will be purchased by the Corporation and will be brought to the schools by the instructors.

It is intended that at the end of the school year, the Corporation will arrange for a "performance night" at each of the schools where the students' work will be displayed. Parents/guardians and families will be permitted to attend. Participation in this performance night is expected to boost students' self-worth by allowing attendees a chance to bestow accolades for the students' artistic abilities.

Part VI, Line 2:

The Corporation will provide arts instruction to children attending public elementary schools in Trenton, New Jersey. These children were chosen as recipients with the knowledge that art education in the Trenton schools has been drastically reduced due to budget cuts. In addition, the public schools in that district have a high dropout rate and low number of college attendees. It is hoped that participation in this program will foster an appreciation for the arts, boost self-confidence and feelings of self-worth and increase the chances for academic achievement.

There are nineteen (19) elementary schools in Trenton. The schools have been polled by the trustees and Main Street Elementary and Trenton Elementary have been selected as the initial participating schools based on the interest of the after-school program directors, the current lack of art education available to their students and the expected availability of funding. It is anticipated that additional schools from the targeted district will be added on a first come first serve basis as available funds are increased.
